WIN ONE OF SIX IPAD MINIS

All 2011 teacher graduates are invited to participate in a survey investigating early career progression into teaching.

The LTEWS project is led by a Deakin University team and seeks feedback on the relevance and effectiveness of teacher education for teaching employment.

Survey response will lead to a better understanding of the experiences of graduate teachers in their first years of work.

This is the third and final round of surveys. New and previous participants are encouraged to contribute and be in the draw to win an iPad mini (16GB, WiFi).

The survey opens 15 March 2013. Access the link here: http://tinyurl.com/SETE-LTEWS

The survey is part of an 18 month longitudinal study being conducted by Deakin University on behalf of the Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relations.

Your participation in this project is greatly appreciated
